SCHU-LAR EFBEEF 40E

As cattle feeders and the owners of a commercial feedyard with over 35 years of cattle feeding experience involving tens of thousands of head of cattle, we believe this bull could be a game changer. This young sire is unique!

Study his performance on test: 5.83# Average Daily Gain (ADG), 3.39 Feed to Gain (F/G), both achievements would dramatically increase the profitability of cattle feeding. His 1.53 Residual Average Daily Gain is the best we have ever seen. With a feed cost of gain at 31.9 cents this young sire promises a new era of cost reducing beef production.

Our close outs taken at the same time as these results were running in the mid 70 cent range for cost of gain. Imagine the genetic impact this bull could have on the beef industry. He is not a complete outlier. His sire Schu-lar Formula 409 ET was the best performing (4.57# ADG) best converting (4.08 F/G) in the 2014 test when he was purchased by Knoll Crest Farm. We have every reason to believe this efficiency is a heritable trait.
